

A close-up photograph of a horizontal wooden beam. The beam is heavily weathered, showing a rough, greyish-brown surface with numerous small holes and cracks. A dark, vertical stain or mark is visible on the right side of the beam. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.